

Day 7: Welcome & Instructions

Bismillah

As'salaamu alaykum

Today is Day 7 of our 10 Day Dhul-Hijjah Challenge.

How are you feeling so far?

I pray that you're enjoying and feeling an emaan boost already insha'Allah.

Just a reminder that now that you have these lesson challenges with you - you actually have them for life.

So, anytime you feel an emaan-low and want a quick spiritual fix then you can go ahead and take on this 10 day challenge and get your family and friends involved too as sometimes it is more motivating with a group.

I do hope and pray that as your daily mentor coach for these 10 days I am inspiring and motivating you to create those positive changes in your life, live upon the deen and prepare for your best akhirah too.

In today's challenge we look at Charity.

This will help you in all areas of your life - not just your ibaadah or spirituality so do enjoy your lesson challenge for today and email me with your 'Feedback Homework' and how I can help you further insha'Allah.

And once again this challenge can involve your family insha'Allah.

Ready? Here you go - go to your lesson for Day 7 Challenge - Clarity.
